BIG GROUP MEET IN BEHALF OF CENTENARY PLANNED

Representatives of Methodist Episcopal Churches Throughout This District Will Meet in Maysville on Next Tuesday.

The first big Group Centenary meeting of the Maysville Group will be held in the Third Street M. E. Church next Tuesday afternoon and evening. Several of the best Centenary speakers will be present, the names of whom will be announced later. However, it is assured that Dr. T. B. Roberts of Centenary M. E. Church, Lexington will be the "Life Service" speaker. Many out-of-town ministers and laymen are expected. The following churches are included in the Maysville Group and the pastor and Sunday School Superintendents of each are expected to attend: Maysville, East Maysville, Germantown, Sardis, Mt. Olivet, Tollesboro, Wellingford, Vanceburg, Greenup and Filberton.

The chief aim of this meeting is that of informing the men of every church of the great movement, and to encourage them with the magnitude of the undertaking and the benefits to be derived therefrom. It has been the custom of the press to feature the big sum of money to be raised. As the work progresses this part of it dwindles to a secondary matter as compared with the work of getting in touch with the last member of the last church and getting him to see the vision and to definitely undertake some form of work for the Kingdom.

The leaders are not worrying over the money end at all. Get the church awakened and it will win the world for Christ. This meeting is open to the public. Members of other churches interested in big movements in their own churches are invited to attend.

LAUNDRY WORKING DAY AND NIGHT

The Maysville Model Laundry management has been having considerable trouble to get help in the plant and because of the shortage of help they were compelled this week to refuse rough dry laundry. The plant has been running night and day but the outlook is much brighter now and it is expected that things will be cleared up before next week.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Maysville Retail Grocers' Association, which was held at the Chamber of Commerce building last night, plans were made for the next big social to be given by the jolly bunch of grocers.

The meeting will be held on the evening of Monday, February 24th, will be held at Neptune Hall and several prominent men will be on the program for addresses on various subjects of much importance to the grocers. It is being planned to have all of the grocers bring their wives, daughters and sweethearts and this social promises to eclipse all of the other good times the grocers have had together since the organization of their association.

INSURANCE PAPERS FOR BOY NOW LIVING RECEIVED

Mrs. Martha Jones, of Carmel street, today received the last set of papers to be filled out by her showing the government that she was the mother of Charles Jones, who was officially reported killed in action in France. Young Jones carried $1,000 government insurance and upon filling out these last papers his mother would have received that amount from the government. Mrs. Jones wrote the government that her son was not dead but still living in France and sent them the last letter she received just a few days ago from her son, which was the first she had received for over four months.

ROB HOLTON HAD MANY NARROW ESCAPES

Former Germantown Man, In Letter to His Mother, Tells of Several Very Narrow Escapes He Had While in France.

Private Rob Holton, Co. H, 169th Infantry, formerly of the Germantown neighborhood, who has many relatives in Maysville and Mason county, writes his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Karshner, Dayton, Ky., as follows, January 14:

Dear Mother:—This leaves me well and expecting to come home soon. I have not been with my company since September. The outfit I am with is in Germany—44th Division. I was gassed September 27, but am still all right now. We expect to be home by the middle of March.

Did I tell you about my officer? He went through every battle excepting Argonne forest. The morning the armistice was signed he was shot seven times but still living the last I heard from him. I came near being killed at Chateau Thierri. A big shell got in the trench with five of us—three were killed one wounded and I escaped without a scratch. And had a machine gun opened on me four times, wounded my buddy at my side. On July 26, I went over the top the first time. Shells dropping around me like half-killing my friend ten feet ahead of me, and another officer about 15 feet from me was shell-shocked. I thought my time had come and believe that all that saved me was prayers from home.

BIG BOYS' BAND WILL START OFF NEXT WEEK

First Ensemble to Be Held Next Week By Boys' Band—Chance For Three Youngsters Yet to Get In.

Prof. Young, director of the Maysville Boys' Band announces that things are in fine shape for the big band and that he expects to have the youngsters ready for their first ensemble some time next week. Although the youngsters have been taking individual instruction now for several weeks, they have never yet been brought together as a band and Prof. Young now thinks that the lads have done so well that this can be accomplished next week.

Prof. Young has arranged matters so that there will be two bands—first and second bands—and boys will be graduated out of the second band into the first or big band as they learn and display ability.

It was announced this morning by Prof. Young that there was yet room in the bands for three boys. The instruments upon which these boys will be asked to play will be baritone, alto and trombone. There should be three boys apply for these parts immediately so that they can get in on the ground floor and get into the big band immediately.

Work among the boys has been progressing amazingly and there will be a big surprise for the parents of the lads when they first have an opportunity to hear them together.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE FLANDERS POPPY

Some of the boys returning from the war are said to be bringing home with them seeds of the Flanders poppy—made immortal by the poem, "In Flanders field the poppies blow, between the crosses row on row," and so on, says the Columbus Dispatch. It is a sentimental thing for the boys to do, but there are other things than sentiment to be considered. We do not know to what extent the Flanders poppy will grow in this country, but it grows in Europe to such an extent that it is a nuisance, and is not considered a flower at all, but a rank weed, although there is no discount as to its beauty.

The correct name of the Flanders poppy is papaver rhoeas, or corn poppy. It grows like wild mustard in this country, having a small early-ripening seed, and it can not be exterminated. It grows in great profusion in grain fields, and the seeds ripen and shatter before the grain is harvested. The farmers make war upon it all the time, but it thrives despite the warfare, and it is not an unusual sight to see a grain field scarlet with the bloom of the corn poppy—and to the detriment of the growing grain.

The corn poppy grows in England as well as in Flanders. In fact, it flourishes all over Europe, but in Flanders it seems to do better than anywhere else. Its brilliant red color staining whole areas where great battles have been fought, has given an uneasy aspect to the country, and surrounded the plant with a sort of superstition. It is said to have sprung up for the first time after the battle of Waterloo, upon that sanguinary field, but such is, of course, not the case. It sprung up in the fields all right, and it will spring up on the fields made sacred by the blood of our own boys. But it has no connection with war, and it blooms regardless of whether there have been battles won or lost, or no battles at all.

RAMSHACKEL ROLLING STOCK

"All of which is respectfully referred to Senator Hoke Smith," is the closing sentence of a pertinent and timely tribute to government run railroads, by a passenger, writing in Leslie's. This particular passenger who had made a trip to Atlanta in a Pullman sleeper says: "We don't wonder that President Wilson before he sailed said in effect that he didn't care how soon the railroads were returned to their owners." The travel worn personage went on to say that, "A lady with an upper berth complained bitterly that the electric light in it was broken. The conductor said he was sorry but couldn't help it and that the car should not have been taken out in such condition. A dollar meal was served in the diner, and the young man opposite the writer at the table called attention to fact that the butter was rancid. It was." And then "The dining car was dark. The steward said that the electric current was insufficient. The springs on the car constantly squeaked. They needed oiling, the steel doors rattled. The shades on the windows wouldn't work. At two o'clock in the morning the train was held up for an hour by an accident to a freight train ahead and breakfast was not served to the impatient passengers until nearly nine o'clock. Passengers who had been promised train connections at Washington to New York arrived in time to see the New York train disappear from the station."

BRINGING THEM BACK

The reports are that the United States soldiers are to be brought out of Russia. Why were they ever sent there? We are not at war with Russia. We feel interested, for the writer has a nephew in that cold Archangel section baring his breast for what? Who induced our government at Washington to pull such a bull as that? It proves that the administration is incompetent. It has not taken congress or the people into its confidence, but went ahead without any authority from anybody and listened to the seductive arguments of the foreign allies whom we have saved from a damned good licking by furnishing men, supplies and money, and without any authority whatsoever and our boys to a considerable number are up there (some hurried) in the Arctic circle fighting people who were once our best friends, a people who once sent a fleet to our country and kept the talons of the English lion from tearing the very soul out of this nation. Andrew Jackson did not do half as much. We personally, do not like it, and it is a disgrace to our country. The blood of our boys sacrificed up there, their hardships in a climate foreign to their experience, lie upon the heads of incompetents in power at Washington.—Exchange.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

It is amusing to read the plea of Messrs. McAdoo and Gregory given as a reason for separating themselves from the public service—pecuniary responsibilities. For several years these thrifty gentlemen have ridden horseback over the people, and now that they see the storm approaching they find it discrete suddenly to dismount and take to the storm cellar. Bryan eked out his living by chautauqua. All three of these gentlemen were full of "democracy" and patched pants "refinement" when they entered the cabinet. They wanted it understood that they belonged to the "common people." But times have changed. Possibly their positions afforded them inside information as to where a considerable bundle of kale could be garnered if they could sever connections with the government and glean it while the gleaming was good. So far as the public office being a public trust was concerned—well, it seems they may make of office "stepping stones of their dead selves to higher things," ineffectively speaking.

In a true spirit of magnanimity toward a fallen foe, we will permit the Kaiser to retain his undershirt after the removal of the button.—Anaconda Standard.

MAYSVILLE MAN WOUNDED IN THE ARGONNE FIGHT

Letter Received From Wilford McGowan Tells of Injuries He Sustained in Battle.

Rev. A. F. Stahl, pastor of the First Christian Church has just received a letter from Corporal Wilford McGowan telling of his injury in battle. The letter follows:

Orleans, France, Jan. 16, 1919.
My dear Rev. A. F. Stahl:
Just a few days ago I received your very welcome letter of October 25, '18. Although the letter arrived somewhat late yet I appreciated reading it over and over. Undoubtedly you have heard of my misfortune which occurred on October 30. I presume that some one at my home had told you the same in detail. So I will not repeat word for word, the circumstances and movements that lead to the time when I was wounded.

It was only twelve days before the armistice was signed however such was my luck. At that time I was in the Argonne Forest on the Meuse river. Fighting here was very hard, nevertheless we reached the goal. The wound which I sustained is in my right thigh, caused by a high explosive shell.

On November 3 I arrived at Base Hospital 202 where I am up to present date. After the operation I was soon on the way to recovery. My wound is not yet healed completely but in about two weeks I will be well again. Since I had no fracture nor break of bone, there was no danger of losing my leg.

In regards to your statement that fighting is no play nor a before breakfast job, I must say that it is really so and quite often there was no breakfast at all. We came to put an end to the bloody struggle and we surely played our part well. At times the struggle seemed hard, hunger, fatigue and cold would encounter us. Nevertheless one and all we pulled through. The sight of our comrades falling gave us new courage and zeal to subdue the dirty Hun. Whenever temptations encountered us, we would think of our beloved friends at home. My division had begun fighting on the Swiss border. They entered the St. Mihiel drive, and later on began fighting in the Argonne Forest. While driving the Boche out of this Forest my work ended.

How well you have prophesied that the whole German nation would hold up her hands and say "Kamerad" before I would receive your letter, true to the word. The work you folks did at home and the prayers you said, gave new inspirations daily. We knew that were at least sacrificing good homes, comfort and even lives for a just and noble cause—fighting for Democracy of the world at large, and now since the Allies are victorious, we are proud of our deeds for humanity. We have done our bit and done it well.

The Base Hospital in which I am at present, is in Orleans, one of the largest cities of France. It was here that Joan of Arc had fought the greatest battle against the English in the fourteenth century. So Orleans is quite a historic town. Its Cathedral is a very magnificent structure.

So far we have had no snow in this part of France, but on the other hand there is lot of rain. For over a month we had rain every day. How soon I will be back in the good U. S. A. I do not know. One never knows in the army when he will move until the exact moment comes. If expectations comes through I may be home for Easter. Thanking you for your very interesting letter and wishing you health and success in your undertaking. I remain,

Sincerely yours,
CORP. W. H. MCGOWAN.

SECURITY LEAGUE INVESTIGATION BY CONGRESS SILLY

Prominent Newspapers in All Parts of the Country Give Editorial Support to Patriotic Body.

New York—"Silly," "absurd" and "ridiculous" are terms being used by many of the important newspapers in all parts of the country to describe the investigation of the National Security League by a House of Representatives committee.

The inquiry has been going on intermittently for over a month, the committee having held hearings both in this city and in Washington and questioned all the principal officers of the Security League at great length. The committee is now hearing the officers of the Chicago Branch of the League in that city.

Extracts from the editorial comment upon the investigation follow: "The Congressional investigation into the activities of the National Security League so far has failed to develop any fact to the discredit of that organization."—Bristol (Va.) "Courier."

"Newspapers of the country who have followed the work of the National Security League, and most of them have, we believe, will be a unit in declaring that its position has always been fair and that its fearless work has been valuable. The League has never made any choice of parties. Its findings have been simply from facts and no Congressman who was doing his duty by his country need have feared the work of the League."—Paducah (Ky.) "Sun."

"There has been no more disinterested and no more sincerely patriotic organization throughout the whole country than the National Security League. Its members have given freely and lavishly in the effort to stamp out every disloyal element in the country."—Macon (Ga.) "News."

"The National Security League ought to feel proud of its investigation by Congress, considering the fact that the charges of those on whose toes it trod are not that it had any taint of pro-Germanism, but that it was too extreme in its Americanism."—New Orleans (La.) "States."

"War is full of horrors at best, but it never fails to produce a flood of humorous incidents. In this country there has been up to date nothing more absurd than the investigation of the National Security League by a committee of members of Congress."—San Antonio (Tex.) "Light."

"Now Congress is proposing to investigate the National Security League. Nothing sillier has been proposed for a long time. This is a free country, with free speech and a free press, all of which the Congressmen who are complaining of the League have availed themselves of for strictly political purposes since the Congressional bee began to buzz in their ears. The best they can do about the late campaign is to forget it."—Davenport (Iowa) "Democrat."

"The National Security League published the records of the pacifists in Congress during the last campaign, and succeeded in defeating a number of them for re-election."—Kansas City (Mo.) "Times."

"Politically, the National Security League did nothing except to encourage the defeat of certain Congressmen, whose speeches and votes, in the League's opinion, showed them to be pro-German."—St. Joseph (Mo.) "Press."

In Illinois, the Handicap Bureau—a new division of the U. S. Employment Bureau—has found positions for 412 crippled soldiers of the A. E. F.

RED CROSS CANTEN AT SORTING STATION

Red Cross Establishes Canteen at Point Where Returning Soldiers Are Sorted Out By Officers.

In the huge classification camp at Contraband, south of Verdun, where returning French, Italian, Belgian, Polish and American soldiers who have been prisoners in Germany are "sorted out," an American Red Cross canteen, established after much difficulty, has borne a heavy part of the task of rendering easier the weary hours of waiting the men must go through.

When Red Cross workers first appeared at the camp that was growing mushroom like, the military authorities were unable to assign any space for the canteen the workers sought to open. The workers did not despair, however, and finally induced an old French woman to rent them the cafe she had but just opened. So great was the crush when the canteen opened it was necessary to permit but fifty soldiers to enter at one time and then for only ten-minute periods. With the dwindling number of repatriated prisoners conditions are better now and while the canteen is filled at all hours there are no weary waiting lines seeking to enter.

MUST HAVE PASSES ON PARIS STREETS

An order from General Headquarters of the American Expeditionary Forces enjoining the Military Police of the District of Paris to arrest any enlisted man of the A. E. F. found on the streets of Paris after 9 o'clock p. m. without a pass, applies also to Red Cross personnel. This curfew law requires that the soldier or Red Cross worker must have a pass from his commanding officer certifying that his specially named military duties require him to be outside his proper quarters after 9 o'clock, or a pass indicating the limits of time between which he may be on the streets of Paris, and the purpose—"to attend theater," "to dine with friends at specified addresses, etc."

TREE BURNS FOR MONTHS

Portland, Ore.—On June 27 last a forest fire in the Itanier forest reserve set fire high up to a dead giant fir tree. Notwithstanding heavy rains have soaked the forest since that time, the fire in the tree top is still burning, according to report made to District Forest Ranger Cecil here by a ranger from Itanier. The stub has now burned down to within 40 feet of the ground. Fires of this sort persist, according to Ranger Kirkpatrick, because the slinkers which form in the center of the burning surface, much like those in the bottom of a blacksmith's forge. A tremendous amount of rain is necessary to cool them off.

FUND FOR WAR COMMISSION OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Will Be Taken in All Episcopal Churches on Next Sunday Bishop Says in Statement.

New York, February 7, 1919. Bishop William Lawrence, of Massachusetts, Chairman of the War Commission of the Episcopal Church, today authorized the following statement:

The Episcopal Church has set aside Sunday, February 9th, for a special collection of funds and pledges in all the Episcopal churches throughout the country to raise $250,000 to conclude the work of the Church War Commission in connection with the demobilization of the army and navy. The Commission has announced that the period of demobilization calls for even more vigorous prosecution of its work among the home-bound troops in cantonments, camps and naval stations here and abroad.

Money for chaplain service and for the War Commission's women's work is required in the largest amounts. To maintain the chaplains' discretionary allowances, and to supply the necessary equipment for the 269 Episcopal chaplains still in the service, the Commission needs $40,000. The women's work, which has been carried on so effectively through the Girl's Friendly Society, that the War Camp Community Service left the field entirely to the Commission's agencies, requires $60,000.

The Army and Navy Council of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which has maintained personal contact with 60,000 men of the church in the service through civilian personnel and groups of personal workers in the ranks, needs $30,000 to continue its work. Other agencies of the Commission requiring funds in varying amounts are the Church Periodical Club, which has kept the men in the service in touch with the church through the dissemination of literature, Holy Trinity Church, Paris, where a wartime assistant has been kept by the Commission; the Seamen's Church Institute, and the war work of the Diocesan Commissions.

EVENING PAPERS IN THE LEAD

The Editor and Publisher has compiled some interesting information concerning the newspapers of the United States.

There are 2,166 English language dailies; 519 are morning newspapers and 1,647 are evening newspapers. There are more than three times as many evening newspapers as there are morning newspapers.

An analysis of the circulation discloses the fact that more than one person out of every four buys a daily newspaper every day. Further analysis shows that at least one copy of a daily newspaper goes into practically every English speaking home. According to the Editor and Publisher, and it proves it by figures, in comparison to any other form of paid advertising, daily newspaper advertising is the least expensive.

A POPULAR VERDICT

Based on Evidence of Maysville People.

Grateful thousands tell it—Of weak backs made strong—Of weak kidneys made well—Urinary disorders corrected. Maysville people add their testimony.

They praise Doan's Kidney Pills. Maysville testimony is now complete. Maysville testimony is confirmed; Reports of early relief substantiated.

Merit doubly proved by test of time. Let a Maysville citizen speak. Fred Dresel, tailor and justice of the peace, 1235 East Second Street, says: "I was troubled by induration of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The kidney secretions burned in passage and often were retarded. I had severe pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my work. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Wood & Son's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement on February 6, 1908, and on November 14, 1916, he added: "I have had the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever, for I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys since I last recommended them."

Mr. Dresel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Dresel had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c at all stores. STOCK SALESMEN CROWDING CITY

Sugar always attracts flies and another sure sign of prosperity in this section is the large number of stock salesmen who are floating about now endeavoring to get some of the big money our farmers are getting for their tobacco. The city has an ordinance prohibiting the sale of unlisted stock. Licensing such salesmen after their stock has been declared safe by a committee. It might not be a bad idea to investigate some of the stock being offered just now. Let's help keep this tobacco money in Maysville and Mason county as much as possible.

FUEL RESTRICTIONS ARE ALL REMOVED, MR. BROWNING SAYS

Mr. S. P. Browning, County Fuel Administrator, Issues Official Statement Informing Public of Removal of Fuel Restrictions.

The Public Ledger is in receipt of the following communication from County Fuel Administrator S. P. Browning:

"The United States Fuel Administration has issued the following order: 'By order entered today all National, State and local regulations with respect to coal both Anthracite and Bituminous, as well as to coke, charcoal and wood products, sold, shipped, distributed or used after January 1st, are suspended, except that until further order all tidewater shipments must go through the tidewater coal exchange. All contracts are subject to the recent contract order of January 17th, and the prohibition of shipment of coal for re-shipment is continued. No new orders or regulations shall be issued by State or Local Administrators after February 1st unless the same have first been submitted to and approved by Washington.'

"It will be understood from the above that the time has arrived when it is no longer necessary to control and regulate the distribution and production of fuel. Effective January 1st, 1919, all restrictions and regulations heretofore in effect, were cancelled. I shall appreciate it if you will give full publicity to this matter.

"May I not thank you for your very loyal co-operation with the Fuel Administration in devoting so much of your valuable space to the communications which I have from time to time sent you. There has never been a time since the Fuel Administration was organized when you have not cheerfully assisted its officers in advising the public of the needs of the hour and of the regulations which were put into effect from time to time. Without the assistance of the newspapers, the work of the Fuel Administration would have been very much more arduous, and very much less effective. 'The Fuel Administration wishes me to convey to you its thanks and everlasting gratitude for the services and co-operation you have rendered. 'Yours very truly, 'S. P. BROWNING, 'Chairman Fuel Committee, Mason County, Ky.'

BASKET BALL GAME

There will be two of the most interesting games of the basket ball season tonight in the high school auditorium. The main game will be played at eight o'clock between the Augusta and the Maysville boys' teams. All interested in seeing Augusta kicked, had better come out. For a curtain raiser, there will be a girls' game between the Athenaeums and the Adelpheas. The score between the two literary societies now stands one to one and this will be the deciding game. Every Alumnus should come and root for his society. Don't you remember the exciting contests when you were in school? Sure you do. So come and see whether the blue and white or the black and gold will be victorious.

The line-up will probably be: Athenaeums—F. Shea; F. Day; C. Chenault; G. Nauman; G. Ford. Adelpheas—F. Flowers; F. Huggens; C. Chambers; G. Rogers; G. Merz.
